TWO WAYS OF LOOKING AT IT

Both wrong.
Twelve inches is the average distance at which perfect eyes see best and easiest.
Holding book or paper differently means eye strain—means an error in refraction or defective muscles—means grave harm sooner or later.
"A glass in time saves"—slightly changed, but you know the import, and eyes are more important than stitches.

H. C. BIRBE DISCHARGED

Upon the Verdict Found of Not Guilty.

Jack Peter Sentenced to Pay Heavy Fine for Shooting.

Constitutional Point in Peonage Case—More Jurors Called.
John Baker Released.

Henry C. Birbe was placed on trial before Judge Robinson yesterday morning under indictment for profanity, alleged to have been committed while he was performing the duties of chairman of election inspectors for the seventh precinct of the Fifth district at the county election on November 3. Attorney General Andrews and W. S. Fleming of his department appeared for the prosecution, and S. F. Chillingworth and E. A. Douthitt for the defendant.

After two jurors had been excused by consent and one, General Secretary H. C. Brown of the Y. M. C. A., challenged by the defendant, the following twelve were found satisfactory by both sides and sworn to try the case:

J. C. Cohen, A. R. Gurrey, Jr., John J. Egan, W. L. Fletcher, Willard E. Brown, Hiram Kaaha, John Isaac, J. M. Dowsett, Jas. Nott, Jr., Arthur W. Rice, John C. Lane, Albert Lucas.

Witnesses called by the prosecution were Abraham Fernandez and Frank Harvey, candidates at the election; Benjamin Kanellalua and George Lucas.

A motion by Mr. Chillingworth for a directed verdict of acquittal was denied and an exception to the ruling noted.

The defense called Deputy Sheriff C. F. Chillingworth, Geo. Scott Wright, Sam Leslie and W. T. Rawlins. The jury retired to consider their verdict at 12:15. They returned in thirty-five minutes, finding the defendant not guilty. On motion of Mr. Chillingworth the defendant was discharged.

SHOOTER SENTENCED.
Jack Peter, convicted on Tuesday of wounding a Chinaman with a shot from a pistol, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Robinson to pay a fine of $250 and costs.

BATCH OF DISCHARGES.
Nolle prosequi were granted before Judge Robinson in the following cases and the defendants discharged:
Ascinto Perry, child stealing.
John Baker, attempting to bribe an executive officer. The principal in the affair, a Chinaman, is in prison.

OF THE MULTITUDES

who have used it, or are now using it, we have never heard of any one who has been disappointed in it. No claims are made for it except those which are amply justified by experience. In commending it to the afflicted we simply point to its record. It has done great things, and it is certain to continue the excellent work. There is—we may honestly affirm—no medicine which can be used with greater and more reasonable faith and confidence. It nourishes and keeps up the strength during those periods when the appetite fails and food cannot be digested. To guard against imitations this "trade mark" is put on every bottle of "Wampole's Preparation," and without it none is genuine. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Taken before meals it creates an appetite, aids digestion, renews vital power, drives out disease germs, makes the blood rich, red and full of constructive elements, and gives back to the pleasures and labors of the world many who had abandoned hope. Doctor S. H. McCoy, of Canada, says: "I testify with pleasure to its unlimited usefulness as a tissue builder." Its curative powers can always be relied upon. It makes a new era in medicine, and is beneficial from the first dose. "You can trust it as the Ivy does the Oak." One bottle convinces. Avoid all unreliable imitations. Sold by chemists throughout the world.

Suataki, Kuada and Yoki, severally for perjury.

BEFORE JUDGE DE BOLT.

H. F. Wichman & Co., vs. J. W. Cathcart was dismissed on motion of Mr. Crook for plaintiff.

The following cases were continued for the term:
Julia dos A. M. Gomes vs. M. G. Silva.
L. L. McCandless vs. Kaikena and Palau.

S. M. Damon et al. vs. H. W. Schmidt et al.

Ichinoshin Fukushima vs. Morihiro.

BEFORE JUDGE GEAR.

For want of prosecution, since the year 1899, Judge Gear dismissed the suit of Hattie S. Lewis vs. Jas. J. Byrne, defendant, and Paul J. Voeller, garnishee.

His panel of jurors being insufficient, Judge Gear has ordered a special venire of thirty-six men returnable this morning.

AN INJUNCTION SUIT.

William McCandless has brought an injunction suit against Lee Chew. He alleges he executed a lease to respondent on April 26, 1899, of a piece of land at Palama for five years at $300 a year. Lee Chew erected two buildings of about $1000 value and lately, it is alleged, has been threatening to tear down the buildings. The petitioner asks that the respondent be restrained from carrying out such destructive intent.

TESTIMONY DESIRED.

Notice of motion has been given by Robertson & Wilder for a commission to take the testimony of Marcus Hendrick at Walton, Delaware county, N. Y., in the suit for damages of J. C. Axtell vs. H. E. Hendrick. The desired witness is father of defendant and, it is said, was present at a certain interview between Axtell and Hendrick over money matters.

THE PEONAGE CASE.

Mr. Cathcart applied to Judge Dole yesterday for the release of Miyamura, convicted the previous day of peonage, under his bail bond of $5000 pending decision of motion for a new trial. District Attorney Breckons opposed the application and it was denied.

Judge Dole will hear argument on the motion for a new trial tomorrow. The point to be raised on behalf of the defendant is that evidence seized, when arrests are made, without search warrants is contrary to the Constitution. In this case letters and other writings obtained in a captured trunk were used against Miyamura in the trial.

CANNY SCOTS TO LAUD BURNS

The Burns' concert of the Scottish Thistle Club in the Elks' Hall on Monday evening promises to be an entertainment of a high order, and apart from the special nature of the celebration, there will be many features enjoyable to others than admirers of the bard. Songs, speeches, recitations and violin and pianoforte solos combine to make an excellent and well-balanced program.

Burns' songs will of course be given a prominent place, I. S. Dillingham singing "Scots Wha Hae," and J. L. Cockburn "There Was a Lad Was Born in Kyle." Stanley Livingston will also be heard in a Scotch song. The patriotic chord will be struck by J. F. Fenwick in "Old England, Home and King," and D. A. Mackintosh will appeal to the hearts of the Scottish "exiles" in "The Song of the Scottish Emigrant." A recitation by Dr. Humphris and a violin solo by W. A. Love are numbers which are sure to be greatly appreciated.

The list of speakers includes U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons, British Consul W. R. Hoare, W. L. Stanley and Wallace R. Farrington.

MEDICAL STUDENT.

—Washington Star.
Edmund Clarence Stedman, the poet, delighted in telling that while in France he was standing on a country road admiring the landscape, when he noticed that the peasants who were passing doffed their hats to him. This attention was very flattering, until he discovered that he was standing in front of a roadside statue of the Virgin Mary, to which the peasants were showing their customary reverence.

MELODRAMA.

The curtain rises on a scene in which is shown a dark ravine. With shady elm trees scattered 'round, And withered leaves strewn o'er the ground.
The hero comes, a mountaineer, Young, handsome, with no thought of fear.
His only mode of doing ill Is running an illicit 'still' (Which, in the mountains, is not thought Despicable, unless you're caught).
Emerging from behind a clump Of ferns, he perches on a stump And, in a moment indiscreet, He drops his rifle at his feet.
Enter the villain, with a pack Of hired scoundrels at his back, And, just as fiercely as he can, He bellows: "Take him—there's your man!"

They mix—it is a thrilling sight, And though 'tis a one sided fight The hero lands a few right swings And with an uppercut he brings The villain crashing to the floor— He fights till he can fight no more. They lock him in a mountain cave And then all make their exit save The villain—when he's out of sight He takes a lot of dynamite.
Ten sticks, perhaps, or may be more, And plants it 'neath the prison door, Exclaiming "I'll fulfil my vow; Curse him, he'll not escape me now! Unless this fuse is dampened some I'll blow him clear to Kingdom Come!"
Then, with a few loud oaths and sneers, He lights the fuse and disappears. Enter the heroine (for you know The melodrama's built just so. Something is lacking in the plot When she's not found upon the spot.)
Entering, she beholds the fuse And sees that there's no time to lose; She gathers up the deadly load, Now almost ready to explode, And with the strength of twenty men She hurls it far adown the glen. Where it explodes with awful force, Near where the villain stands, of course.

Filling the air with stones and sand And desiccated villain, and, As luck will have it, breaking loose The door of the grim calaboose. The hero then, without delay, Steps briskly forth and walks away, His fair preserver by his side. He asks her if she'll be his bride: "Yes, darling," she replies, "I will Providin' you'll give up the still." The orchestra begins to play Soft, trembly music just as they Walk off the stage and close the door. The curtain drops—the play is o'er. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

The editor of a Paris paper, recalling what Zola had done for Dreyfus, called upon the novelist to have him review the unfortunate captain's book, the history of his troubles. The visitor found him at the big table in his library, doing his day's work. "Review Captain Dreyfus's book!" he repeated, when the proposition was made to him. He got up and ambled round the table—a short man, with a stomach and no presence—grunting at intervals. Finally he said: "Why should I review his book? He never even read mine."
